Biography/Administrative History

Christine Tayleur was a Canadian trans woman, social worker, and co-founder of Transgender Nation. She was active in the San Francisco transgender scene between the 1970s and the 1990s, acting as an at-large representative on the San Francisco Task Force on Prostitution and a board member of Community United Against Violence

Scope and Content of Collection

The collection consists of correspondence, flyers and brochures; an interview with, and speech by, Tayleur; news clippings, photographs, press releases and announcements; and resource materials for transgender people. Some correspondence, such as an exchange about phalloplasty with a Belgian doctor, was apparently undertaken by Tayleur in the process of her work with clients. There is also personal correspondence in English, Dutch, and French, Tayleur apparently having been a Francophone.
